Her Money Was Gone!

An old woman who lived alone had kept nearly $2,000 00 in currency around her house for years. She was afraid of banks.

Last fall she became seriously ill, and——

No, she didn't die. But when she went to look for the cash it was gone! Fortunately some honest friends had found it while she was unconscious and had deposited it to her credit in a bank.

This woman has now decided that after all the bank is the safest place, and, besides, her money is not idle any longer. It is now earning 4 per cent for its owner.

Let us put your money to work for you.

VICTORIES OF PEACE EQUAL THOSE OF WAR

Whether the task is the construction of a colossal harbor improvement project, or the administration of a newly acquired insular possession, the Department of War is always prepared to bring to the task a high degree of skill and masterful judgment. How "peace hath her victories no less renowned than war" for the military department of the nation is interestingly described and illustrated in one of an instructive series of articles on Our Government now being distributed exclusively by this Institution.

We shall be pleased to see that you receive the complete series, if you will send us your name and address.

Mr. Hunter Howerton was in town Saturday and says Reedy Creek will bring a fine crop of tobacco to the Appomattox Association this winter. He urges Appomattox to get ready for the great opportunity about to come to her and offer the farmers every inducement to make Appomattox their trading point. Good sense and straight talk

On Saturday the Appomattox ball team defeated the Big C team of Lynchburg, by a score of 12 to 1. The visitors played a very loose game of ball after the first inning in which they made their first run by errors of our boys. Robertson the south paw for the visitors pitched a very good game but had poor support, while Ferrell for the home team hurled a wonderful game, stricking out 12 and allowing one hit. The game yesterday was played in the rain and the Lynchburg Cotton Mill had a complete walk-out handed them by Ferrell in a seven inning contest, in which 16 Lynchburg sluggers struck. The score registered 12 to 0 in favor of our old time.

Mrs. Flood had a representative here last week looking over the situation and conditions with reference to the matter of erecting here a moseleum for the Flood family.

The railroad bill passed by our last Legislature requiring automobiles to stop before going over track is being slightly observed. The fact is here that the railroad maintains such a grade that few cars can get over it if they stop on the grade. What the railroad should be required to do is to maintain a watchman and gate at both crossings and build a decent station here for its patrons.

Blackberries in abundance are getting ripe; so we are safe from starvation for a few weeks longer at least.

The wheat harvest is over and threshing begun, we understand there is some dissappointment over the yield.

There will be quite a lot of work for well diggers in our neighborhood soon. There are three or four new homes that will have to have water.

Mr J. S Kinney has had two very sick children recently. They are both all right again we are glad to say.

Mr. A. B. Dabney, of Lynchburg, will deliver Judge Ruther ford's remarkable lecture "Millions now living will never die" at Wildway, Sunday, July 9th. Everyone is invited to come and hear this great message of what is immediately ahead of the world and why he believes the "end" has come. He says the "end" will be very different from what we have always believed.

BEYOND THE POWER OF MAN

Vainly Does He Attempt to Still a Woman's Tongue or Stop Her Garrulous Fingers.

A woman's talent—amounting almost to a genius—for letting her husband know that he is not much of a fellow in her estimation, would seem to be seriously impaired when she happens to be a deaf mute. But, according to the testimony submitted in a divorce case tried in court recently, feminine ingenuity refuses to admit any handicap in this oldest of all games. She annoyed him in the sign language.

The husband, being merely a man, did not adopt the simple expedient of tying her hands together when he wanted a little soul quiet. He failed to have recourse to the obvious expedient of shutting his eyes when she fingered to him that she thought he was the biggest donkey in creation.

Thus he proved once more that man truly is a creature of a lower order. He can build ships and fight wars, till the soil and manage big industries, but when it comes to stopping a woman's tongue or her garrulous fingers, he is not there!—Detroit News.

Come to Think of It.

A man was describing to a woman the compensations of nature—how in the blind the feeling of touch was acute; how those who were deaf in one ear often heard clearly with the other, and how a person blinded in one eye often sees extra well with the sound eye. "Yes," said she, "it's remarkable. And, come to think of it, I have always noticed that if a person has one short leg the other is always longer."

Tribute and Tax.

Tribute is money, commodity of value or service rendered by one ruler or state to another in token of submission, while taxes are financial burdens imposed by a state upon its own subjects. In early times there was not this distinction, for, under the feudal system especially, taxation, tribute and rent were often identical.

For Torpid Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Thedford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

The Oliver Disc Plow

And Now—Profit in Farming Without the Drudgery

FORDSON power makes more productive seed beds and the tractor does its work so rapidly that farm drudgery is passing. Expenses are reduced. Better crops are grown.

For the job of plowing tough or sticky soils, Fordson farmers use the OLIVER DISC PLOW and do the work easily and well. The thoroughness of its work has made this plow standard equipment with the Fordson.

Penetration in the toughest soils is assured by the design of the plow which throws its weight to the cutting edge of the discs where they enter the ground. This penetration is easily varied for different soils. By simply turning a crank screw, the penetrating power is increased or decreased.

Improved scrapers give a mouldboard effect. They leave a well pulverized seed bed and cover all trash.

To farm the new way means so small an investment that it is within easy reach of every farmer. Come in and see the Fordson and the OLIVER SPECIAL DISC GANG for the Fordson, and you, too, will decide to be a Fordson farmer.

TOWN LIVES WITHIN ITSELF

Seibo, on the Island of Santo Domingo, Entirely Without Accommodation for Travelers.

The town of Seibo, on the island of Santo Domingo, notorious for its bandit tribes, is one of the few communities on the island that has no hotel accommodations, the unbefriended stranger finding nothing but miserable thatched huts with nests on three legs for beds, and a ragged old negro crone for a servant. Seibo is the most out-of-the-way, astonished-at-strangers, unacquainted-with-the-world town of any size that can be found in the West Indies. Though a large detachment of United States marines camp at its bandit-threatened door, the people show unbounded surprise to see American civilians. Groups of almost foppishly dressed men lounge in the streets, yet the town itself is little short of filthy.

A curious old church, a part of it built 400 years ago, on the top of which is the marine wireless station, is the only building of importance. From the top of this church Seibo is seen to be surrounded by low hills, everywhere wooded, without a hut outside its compact mass, described by Harry A. Franck in the Century Magazine, as having "its skirts drawn up like those of a nervous old maid in constant dread of mire." The town also has the proverbial garrison house that seems like a fort of the medieval ages.
